Brand New Book  Print on Demand .We ve all heard of the song Anything You Can Do, I can do Better. This is something that I have taken with me own life and adapted it into the way I approach social interaction and things dealing with Asperger s Syndrome. I believe that all children have the ability to learn, feel, love, and connect with other children. Some will be better at it than others. Some people have made autism out to be this horrible thing and blown it way out of proportion. The truth is, autism is no different than anything else in life. For example, look at two people who play basketball. Let s compare Michael Jordan to myself in that regard. I played basketball in elementary school and now I shoot hoops for fun every now and then. MJ is a professional and played for the Chicago Bulls. Michael Jordan is the greatest player to ever play in the National Basketball Association. If he and I were to play one on one I would most certainly lose. My conclusion is Michael Jordan is a better basketball player than I am. I m okay with that. Believe it or not, there are some things that I could be better at than he is. This is no different than comparing a neurotypical child to a child on the autism spectrum. While one might excel and have great social skills, the other might go onto become an engineer or invent something useful to society. While we all alike in some ways, we are also different in many other ways. You have to remember no matter what that we are all unique. We all have something...
